Sharjah Art Museum: Considering Dynamics & Forms of Chaos

March, 2016

Angela Bulloch. Horizontal Technicolour, 2002/2016

“Considering Dynamics & Forms of Chaos” is an exhibition showcasing the work of two artists: Angela Bulloch and Maria Zerres. It introduces the subject of the universe. The universe is the main term that distinguishes movements into/from chaos, which appear in a variety of fields, including physics, theory of possibility, sociology, and information technology. They are usually used in the context of thermodynamics. The concept of entropy or the universe is used as a frame for the works of the two artists. For example, the implementations of the artist Angela Bulloch are associated more with the information theory which basically looks at the universe as the average amount of information in a letter. On the other hand, the concept practiced by Maria Zerres comes in the form of distortions and strategies of abstraction, through strikes of chaos which lead at the same time to a sort of uniformity. With both artists, there is a type of chaos that suggests uniformity.
